PRESIDENT ASKS BIG NAVY FUND

Requests 4 Billion in Cash, $210,000,000 for Contract Authorizations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for an additional $4,000,000,000 cash and $210,000,000 contract authorizations for the navy.

The breakdown of uses the navy intends for the additional funds included:

Miscellaneous expenses, $7,500,000; research laboratory, $350,000; operation and conservation of naval petroleum reserves, $2,800,000; naval reserve, $48,000,000; training, education and welfare, $4,515,000; maintenance for the bureau of ships, $850,000,000; ordnance and ordnance stores, $1,000,000,000; pay, subsistence and transportation, $494,958,000; medicine and surgery, $67,000,000.

Yards and docks, $800,000,000; aviation, $562,000,000; armor, armament and ammunition, $417,000,000.

The budget bureau said the funds were needed to "provide for additional requirements for the prosecution of the war," and "to provide for contingencies" that have arisen since the transmission of the budget for the fiscal year 1943.

HEADS U. S. FORCES ABROAD Intensify Bombing

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Lieutenant General Frank M. Andrews, assumed command of United States forces in the European theatre today and announced that "my first job is to increase and intensify the bombing of the enemy."

General Andrews came to London from the Middle East, where he was in command of United States forces, to succeed Lieutenant General Dwight D. Eisenhower, new commander-in-chief of South African operations.

Himself a veteran aviator, General Andrews said he would see that American air forces in the United Kingdom were increased in order to step up the aerial offensive against Germany. He said the task of the USAAF in this theatre is to be the "continued softening up of Germany."

CAPTAIN R. W. CHRISTIE ORDERED TO SEA DUTY

Captain Frank G. Fahrion to Take Over Command of Torpedo Station

Captain Ralph W. Christie who was recently sent here to take over as inspector of ordnance in charge of the Naval Torpedo Station, relieving Captain Frank H. Roberts, has been ordered to sea duty, according to an announcement today.

Captain Frank G. Fahrion, who was named executive officer when the list of changes was made known a short time ago, will take over as inspector of ordnance in charge. It is understood this is a permanent, not a temporary assignment. It is believed that Captain Fahrion will take over Saturday, relieving Captain Roberts, who is leaving Wednesday for the University of Colorado on a new tour of duty.

Although Captain Christie was sent here to take command, he had not actually assumed command when the news came through transferring him to sea.

HOUSE GETS BILL ON COMPENSATION

Measure Would Curb Waiting Period for Unemployed in This State

[Special to the News]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 5—A bill eliminating the waiting period for unemployment compensation benefits for those totally unemployed and speeding up payment for those partially unemployed, was passed for introduction in the house today by Representative Elisha A. O'D. Taylor of Newport and John J. Wrenn of Providence, both Democrats, as joint sponsors.

The bill provides that the compensation week of any individual eligible for total unemployment benefits shall commence on the date he applies for compensation. It provides further that the waiting period of an individual who claims benefits for partial unemployment shall be three weeks of such partial unemployment or any combination of weeks in which there occur two weeks of partial unemployment and these two weeks need not be consecutive.

Also sponsored by Taylor was a resolution extending unqualified approval to Rear Admiral William F. Halsey, U. S. N., commander of the United States forces in the South Pacific, for his "denial of vicious propaganda fiction leading to disparage organized labor."

The resolution refers to recent charges that merchant seamen had refused to unload a ship at Guadalcanal.

A bill introduced by Representative John G. Murphy, Providence Republican, and William F. Powers, Cumberland Democrat, provides that in addition to judgment which may be granted by courts in civil suits, the trial judge shall order the losing party to pay the prevailing counsel's fee of not more than 20 per cent of the disputed amount and a minimum of $10.

Murphy pointed out that in many small claims actions, persons obtaining judgments are granted the right to collect the amount of the claim but out of that amount they are forced to pay counsel fees. His bill would permit such persons to obtain counsel fees plus the amount of the judgment.

Promotion of victory gardens on state-owned land is proposed in a bill passed Thursday by the senate. It was introduced by Senator George E. Conley, Providence Democrat, and places the program

HITLER DEATH RUMOR HIT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman in London expressed the opinion today that suggestions that Hitler was dead were "sheer nonsense."

Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Soviet Russia, said in a radio broadcast Thursday night that days of mourning and grief in Germany suggested the possibility that Hitler was dead.

"These days of mourning and grief in Germany supposedly because of the Stalingrad defeat and the fact that Hitler did not make his tenth anniversary speech last week suggests the possibility that Hitler is dead," Davies said, speaking from Washington on the March of Time broadcast.

RAF BATTERS TURIN, SPEZIA

Strikes at Ruhr, Lorient in Addition to Raids on Italian Cities

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The RAF bombed Turin and the Spezia naval base in northern Italy Thursday night and simultaneously attacked the Ruhr and the German submarine base at Lorient, in France, it was announced today.

"Only three bombers were reported lost in the raids, which constituted one of the most sweeping single night's operations the RAF ever has attempted."

The Air Ministry communique gave details tersely:

"Last night aircraft of the bomber command attacked Turin and Lorient. The weather over both targets was good and the attacks were heavy and concentrated."

"The Italian naval base at Spezia also was bombed and targets in the Ruhr were attacked during reconnaissance flights over western Germany."

"Three bombers are missing."

"The Italian high command said several waves of planes raided both the town and surroundings of Turin, several buildings were hit and 'the number of victims is not yet ascertained.'"

"The high command communique, broadcast from Rome, indicated the attack upon Spezia was lighter. It said bombs caused only slight damage there."

"It was the first time that home-based bombers had taken the long trial across the Alps to attack northern Italy since December 11, when a heavy raid on Turin wound up a two-month offensive against Premier Mussolini's war industries there and at Genoa and Milan."

Excellent weather was encountered last night over Turin and the city, center of the Italian automobile industry, was heavily bombed, the announcement said.

"The defenses, though clearly strengthened, were no more effective than in December," the announcement said.

The raid upon Spezia was the first of the war for that fortified city, the site of artillery works and establishments for the production of electrical supplies and marine weapons, especially torpedoes.

Spezia, main northern base of the Italian navy, is about 60 miles southeast of Genoa and 120 miles southeast of Turin.

Good weather also was encountered over Lorient, the British reported, and the bombing there was "heavy and concentrated."

The port, important base for Hitler's submarines operating in the Atlantic, had been blasted repeatedly by the RAF during the past month—the last time last Friday night.

The specific objectives attacked in the Ruhr were not immediately disclosed, the formal announcement saying merely that targets in that industrial area had been "bombed in the course of reconnaissance flights over Germany."

RAF traffic started across the Channel again in mid-afternoon, with big bombing formations heading for northern France under escort of Spitfire squadrons.

STEEL STOCKS MAKE COMEBACK

Share Division Leans Higher, Point Gains Rule Near Close

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—A comeback in steel stocks gave today's market a selective recovery appearance.

The share divisions leaned irregularly higher at the start and, while assorted leaders did little or nothing, gains running to a point predominated near the fourth hour. Dealings slowed after the opening although there were subsequent active intervals.

Some demand came in as a result of the unusually light selling of the past three sessions, most of which was attributed to thoughts of a possible substantial technical correction. The flow of good Russian news was helpful but restraints persisted in the cloudy Solomon's war picture and growing tax doubts.

Bonds and commodities shifted over narrow routes.

LITTLE CHANGE HERE ON OIL SITUATION

Fuel oil dealers had little to report today in the way of change in the oil situation but all of them were of the opinion that the present warm spell would be a relief to those of this city who have been forced to heat their homes on a short range oil ration. One dealer thought the best way out of a bad situation regarding this range oil would be to have the warm spell continue.

The Petroleum Supply Company is still waiting for a 1,000-gallon truck load of range oil to be delivered from Providence. It was learned today. This is the third day of waiting. It was said. It was not known if Fall River had received any range oil since Thursday when that city was reported low on the amount on hand. At present Petroleum Supply has only a negligible amount of range oil on hand, it was stated. The fuel oil on hand was fair, they said.

It was indicated at Johnson Brothers this morning that no additional range oil had been received since the arrival of a large shipment the first part of the week.

Newport Oil and Socony-Vacuum were in the same status as Thursday, they said today. The Newport Oil Company expects some range oil from Providence about the first of next week. It was said, Socony has only enough on hand to take care of their customers in small amounts, it was indicated. There seems to be no shortage of gasoline according to reports here today.

Bertram F. Linz, Washington correspondent for the Daily News, said Thursday that he had learned a relaxation of the ban on pleasure driving had been recommended by the Petroleum War Industry Council as soon as the present heating season is over.

At variance with this recommendation was the statement by Harold L. Ickes petroleum administrator Thursday in Washington, that he was more concerned with building up reserves of fuel oil in the Eastern area in order to keep people warm next winter, than he was about their pleasure driving.

Just how bad the fuel oil situation is in Rhode Island is indicated in Associated Press dispatches this morning referring to the labor crisis that apparently

GERMANS FACE ENCIRCLEMENT

Rush Tanks, Divisions of Infantry Into Big Battles in Russia

MOSCOW, Feb. 5 (AP)—Facing a gigantic encirclement of all their forces in the Don basin above Ros- tov even as their armies in the Caucasus were being pinned back against the sea, the Germans were reported today desperately rushing squadrans of tanks and divisions of infantry reserves into the battles raging west and south of Krasny- Liman.

In breaking through to Krasny-Liman the Red army pushed deep into the rich Ukraine to develop a potential flanking movement against the important German strongholds of Kharkov and Voroshilovgrad. Soviet forces were well to the west of the latter city.

The remainder of nine German and Hungarian divisions surrounded west of Voroshilovgrad appeared to be facing the fate of the Nazi force that was encircled and annihilated at Stalingrad. The newspaper Pravda reported the trapped forces were fighting in scattered garrisons, with no communication with one another. The dead already were reported to total 17,000, with 27,000 captured.

Directly east and north of Rostov the Nazis were reported counter-attacking with abundant tanks and motorized forces as they made a supreme effort to hold the key city where the Don empties into the Sea of Azov and thus retain a land route of escape for their hard-pressed troops in the Caucasus.

The Germans now hold only the northern edge of the Caucasus, on a line running up the Black sea and the Sea of Azov coast from Novorossisk to Rostov, with their deepest point inland at Krasnodar. Krasnodar is reported threatened on three sides and in imminent peril.

Red army forces of General I. V. Tuleniev were reported to have the Germans' Caucasus forces in flight and to be driving them hourly from more populated places and fast blocking their lines of retreat. One determined Soviet drive was aimed at Timashevskaya, 85 miles north of Krasnodar. Shoulti Timashevskaya full, it was pointed out, all German troops in the western Caucasus either would face a sea trip via Novorossisk or would have to try to escape over the Kerch straits into the Crimea.

(The German high command communique broadcast by the Berlin radio reported that powerful Soviet forces had attempted to make landings at Novorossisk, but had been frustrated. The landing forces were encircled, the Germans said, and faced destruction.

First word of a large Japanese sea-borne force bearing down on Guadalcanal Island came in delayed despatches from the South Seas battlefront today as official secrecy continued to shroud developments in an expected showdown battle between the American and Japanese fleets.

In Washington, the navy reported "recurrent engagements" by opposing naval and air forces in the Solomon Islands theatre, but declared that Tokyo radio reports of a big naval fight already in progress were false.

Amid the tense hiatus, censored despatches from Guadalcanal, dated February 1, declared: "Aerial observers reported to night that a large force of Jap warships headed for Guadalcanal. Some observers think the Japs hope to bolster their tottering Guadalcanal ground forces with reinforcements."

The despatch quoted Major Naze Whitaker, of Texana, Ky., flight leader, as saying he observed between 30 and 40 Japanese ships, many of them warships, in Shortland harbor, 150 miles north of Guadalcanal.

A Tokyo broadcast had previously asserted, without confirmation, that Japanese forces attacked American warships off Fomel Island 100 miles south of Guadalcanal, February 1, the date of the Guadalcanal despatch.

There was no immediate indication, either from Washington or Guadalcanal itself, that the Japanese had been able to land reinforcements on the prize island, although latest advices said American planes gunned enemy barges off Guadalcanal Tuesday.

The navy said, however, that United States Army troops still were pressing forward against Japanese positions on the island, killing 38 enemy troops and driving the invaders from positions west of the Bonnet River.

The navy said details of clashes at sea would not be disclosed "as long as such information might jeopardize the safety of our forces."

While authoritative comment remained almost negligible, the rising tempo of Allied aerial blows touched off speculation that a United Nations offensive might be imminent against Japanese strongholds in the central and northern Solomons.

For days past, General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters has reported incessant and increasingly violent Allied air attacks on enemy bases stretching across hundreds of miles of the South Seas archipelago and adjoining islands.

These could serve either as "softening up" assaults, paving the way for an Allied sea-borne offensive or as defensive smashes to cripple the sources of enemy supply.

In today's communique, General MacArthur reported that United Nations airmen, unloaded bombs for three solid hours on the Japanese airdrome at Buin, 300 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, and

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 3 (AP)—American aerial raiders smashed heavily at German airdromes and auxiliary fields in the Gabes area Thursday and, in this and other fighting, shot down 26 German planes and damaged 26 more while losing 10 of their own, a spokesman announced today.

While the air war raged a white heat, United States armored forces withdrew from the Sened railway station in central Tunisia, 65 miles northwest of Gabes, after "accomplishing the purpose of their mission," the spokesman said.

An Allied communique had, ignored the Sened sector, reporting there was no change in the ground situation.

British troops in the Dou Arada sector to the north maintained control of the heights of Djebel Mansour, which they captured the previous day, and bent off Nazi attacks.

Twenty-five of the Axis planes destroyed yesterday were downed in action directly related to the Gabes raids and the other was caught in one of the aerial sweeps across the front. The attack followed another bombing of the docks of Bizerte Wednesday night.

Duplicating their successes in European and Pacific theatres, four formations of B-17 Flying Fortress shot down 24 Nazi fighters in running engagements continuing for 60 miles. Escorting P-38 lightnings bagged another German fighter. One B-17 and four P-38s failed to return.

Five Allied fighters were lost in other forays over Axis territory. The edge of 26-to-10 yesterday followed a 48-hour period in which German and Italian fighters had held a slight advantage in the number of planes shot down.

Raining high explosives on the targets at Gabes airdrome and dispersal fields, the American heavy bombers started six or seven fires. The auxiliary landing grounds five miles west of the Axis supply port were wreathed in smoke as the fortresses turned homeward under attack.

The Luftwaffe's failure to break up the Flying Fortress operations by mass interceptions with Messerschmitt 109s and Focke Wulf 109s was regarded by officers here as a heartening development.

Bertram F. Linz, Washington correspondent for the Daily News, said Thursday that he had learned a relaxation of the ban on pleasure driving had been recommended by the Petroleum War Industry Council as soon as the present heating season is over.

At variance with this recommendation was the statement by Harold L. Ickes petroleum administrator Thursday in Washington, that he was more concerned with building up reserves of fuel oil in the Eastern area in order to keep people warm next winter, than he was about their pleasure driving.

Just how bad the fuel oil situation is in Rhode Island is indicated in Associated Press dispatches this morning referring to the labor crisis that apparently

NAVY CASUALTIES

67 Added To List; Fall River Man Wounded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The navy announced today 67 casualties in navy forces, including seven dead, 13 wounded and 47 missing.

This brings to 22,739 the total of navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 6,461 dead, 4,020 wounded and 12,258 missing. The casualties announced today included: (those listed are navy and non-commissioned personnel unless otherwise specified):

Massachusetts: Bernier, Joseph Edgar Leonard, wounded. Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homenas Bernier, 550 Jackson st., Fall River.

BOND BUYER OVER-ANNOYED

RATON, New Mexico, Feb. 5 (AP)—The 13-year-old boy who presented a bank check to a teller in Des Moines, explained he wanted "a war bond, awful bad."

The teller told him one and then discovered he had wanted the bond so badly that he had forged the name of a business man to the check.

ELLEN GALLAGHER RITES

Funeral services for Miss Ellen Gallagher were held this morning from the O'Neil Funeral Home to St. Mary's Church, where a solemn high mass was offered by the Rev. Edward J. Boland. The Rev. Thomas P. Gilliland acted as deacon and the Rev. John K. O'Rourke as sub-deacon.

Interment was in St. Columba's Cemetery, where the committal service was read by the Rev. Edward J. Boland. The bearers, all nephews of the deceased, were John J. Donald, P. Martin B. Francis M. James A. and Joseph M. Gallagher.

FOOD SITUATION

CALLED SERIOUS

N. E. Council Head Urges Aid for Farmer in Manpower, Prices

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The national and international food supply situation "are serious because of the realization of the public," Edward E. Chase of Portland, Me., president of the New England Council, said today in an appeal for aid to the farmer.

Chase declared in a letter to 3,000 New England business leaders that the farmer needed not only increased manpower but, also, "the same consideration as to price as is accorded any producer." "He knows that his costs—labor and materials—are up; he knows he cannot produce at wartime costs and sell at peacetime prices, any more than can our manufacturers," Chase asserted, adding:

"The first thing he needs from the rest of us is a friendly and sympathetic understanding of his problem." Chase said it was "positively necessary" for business men to bestir themselves concerning the problem. He predicted that if production fell "some of us will know hunger, for it is certain that our armed forces and those of our allies will get what they require, and the rest of us must get along on what is left."

He suggested a badge for every food producer "identifying him (or her) as a war worker." "And," he asked, "how about some army and navy 'E' awards for 'excellence in war production'?"

"But much more is needed," he said. "The farmer must have more physical help—more men, women and young people taking their places beside him to help him in the job of working the land, planting the crops, gathering the harvest and caring for the cows, pigs and chickens. The business community must do its part in making farm work an honored form of war work in New England this year."

His plea came on the heels of a suggestion by Farm Security Administration directors of 11 Northeast states to divert into farm work able-bodied men now shifting "in large numbers" from non-essential jobs, coincident with new regulations by the Manpower Commission.

"There never has been a more opportune time to get farm help than right now," Tureo A. Pastro, assistant regional director, declared at a meeting of the directors Thursday.

"If we do not solve the problem now I don't know when we will," "Right now no occupation is more essential than farm work. There is a tremendous demand for food and fiber. Our civilian population, our fighters abroad and our allies have to be fed."

"That's the job that faces the American farmer this year. His help has gone into industry or the armed forces. He's got to get new manpower, and he's got to get it right now—if he's to do his job."

TELLS OF INVASION THREAT
Air Official Says Enemy Force Was Checked Off Coast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A threatened attack on the United States last year was warded off and the enemy was defeated over the ocean with only thirty minutes' advance notice of the invasion, Colonel Edgar S. Gorrell, president of the Air Transport Association of America, told the day.

"With only 30 minutes notice a sufficient number of planes were sent out to sea to lick the enemy before they could reach our shores," he said.

Colonel Gorrell, chief of staff of the A. E. F. during the last war, refused to elaborate on his statement. It is thought he may have referred to the Battle of Midway. Army officials said they knew of no such battle off the continental United States.

SOLDIER ADJUDGED

PROBABLY GUILTY

Howard M. Prescott Ar-raigned on Charge of Murdering Woman Here

Private Howard M. Prescott, of Camp Edwards, Mass., waived examination, was adjudged probably guilty, and bound over to the March session of the grand jury when he was arraigned before Judge Arthur J. Sullivan in the district court this morning on a charge of murdering Mrs. Avis Macomber, 18, a Park-Holm maid, at the home of her employer last Sunday night.

Prescott, who was represented by Aram A. Arabian, associated with Benjamin Cianciarulo, state public defender, was recommitted without bail to Providence County Jail. Judge John C. Burke, city solicitor, represented the city. It was charged that Prescott killed Mrs. Macomber with a bullet from a hunting rifle. The two came from Dexter, Me.

Prescott was brought from Providence by Sheriff Robert H. Chappell and returned there by Deputy Sheriffs Harry K. Van Neman and George Watts early this afternoon. Deputy Sheriff Van Neman accompanied Mr. Arabian on an inspection of the apartment where the shooting allegedly took place.

At a special session of the court Thursday afternoon, Wayne Davis, of William street, who was picked up Wednesday by Assistant Inspector Walter C. Shea, was sentenced to six months in Providence County Jail on a charge of stealing $16 from Mrs. Frances Snowden, of the same address.

In the case against Adrian Albert Gagne, charged with stealing 22 pounds of roast beef, there was discontinuance on payment of costs.

On the civil docket the cases of Philip Gould and Daniel Cox, naval officers, against Delphis and Anita LaCasse, trustees, over rent, was heard and continued to February 9 for decision.

LEHMAN GETS CUP
Named Williams Outstanding Alumnus

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—Chosen as Williams College's outstanding alumnus of the year, former Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York, director of foreign relief and rehabilitation, has been awarded the Roger-Schuyler cup.

The presentation was made Thursday at the college's second wartime Commencement in nine months. Four honorary degrees were awarded.

Master of Arts degrees were conferred upon Joseph C. Harsch, Christian Science Monitor foreign correspondent; and Charles E. Hubbard, member of the judicial council of Massachusetts; Doctorates of Letters were conferred upon Richard A. Newhall, chairman of the Williams faculty, and James Pratt, professor of philosophy.

TO POOL SOME BUS LINES
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation ordered today pooling of certain bus lines between New York and Boston.

The order required the Quaker City Bus Company, Camden, N. J., and Silver Dart Lines, Inc., Boston, to swap routes, passengers, tickets, depot and other facilities, and reduce the number of round trips to not more than four apiece. Without actually reducing the number of passengers to be carried, this order is expected to save 27,000 bus miles a month.

Chile, extending for 2,600 miles between the Pacific Ocean and the Andes has an average width of only 100 miles.

SNAKEBITE PROTECTION KIT

Florida Man Fills Army Orders For Forces In Jungles

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—An unusual contribution to the war effort is being made by Paul Saunders, 30-year-old secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here.

He is now filling Army Medical Corps orders for safety kits for protection against snakebite in reptile infested areas. Each kit, a hollow, moisture proof plastic cylinder contains the following: A handy tourniquet to be placed above the point of the bite to shut off the flow of blood toward the heart; a small knife to make incisions around the wound, allowing it to bleed freely; a novel pump with which to draw off the blood infected by the rattler's bite; three types of pump openings to apply to different parts of the body, depending on the location of the bite; two ammonia capsules as a stimulant to counteract the nervous shock; two iodine swabs to disinfect the wound and two horie bandages to be applied to cuts after blood is drawn from the infected area.

ON DMIOUT OBSERVANCE
Manufacturing Industry Criticized By Officer

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Observance of army dmiout regulations in New England by manufacturing and industrial plants was criticized today by Colonel Harold G. Storke, director of internal security for the First Service Command.

They had a record of only 45 per cent observance, compared with 95 per cent observance in homes, outdoor advertising and "lights visible from the seacoast," in general, he said in a statement reporting on the first two months of operations under the new dmiout rules.

Storke said the low percentage of observance by industrial and manufacturing plants could be blamed partially on difficulties in procurement of material and labor. He described the shielding of street and highway lights as proceeding rapidly.

Many automobileists, he said, were using the high beam on their headlights in settled communities in violation of regulations, but their compliance was about 70 per cent.

SCHOOL BUSES CRASH
Driver Says Ice Roads Caused Palmer, Mass., Accident

PALMER, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—Thirty school children were injured today in the head-on collision of two school buses after one had skidded at the top of an ice-sheeted hill and slid 200 feet.

Twelve of the 20 injured students were removed by passing motorists to the Wing Memorial hospital where physicians said that all were expected to recover, although injuries ranged from concussion and a broken leg to lacerations.

Walter J. Graham, Jr., of Palmer, bus driver, reported to police that he had lost control of his vehicle because of the icy condition of the road, which was badly rutted.

DISCUSS REGULATIONS

Consider Charges For Containers on Home Deliveries

Hotels, Restaurants, Schools Also Affected By Federal Rule on Deposits

Milk dealers affiliated with the Newport Dairyman's Association met at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon to work out some way of putting new regulations issued by the United States Department of Agriculture director of food distribution into effect.

Most of the federal regulations have been observed in Newport for months. One phase however, has constituted such a problem that milk dealers have preferred to risk heavy financial losses rather than invoke what literally amounts to a penalty to the consumer, the fixation of a charge for empty bottles not exchanged for full containers.

Such a regulation has been in effect for some time in stores which sell milk over the counters, the customers being required to furnish either an empty bottle or make a deposit when purchasing a full one. In considering home deliveries and losses or breakage of containers, the dairyman explained that a minimum of four containers is required for each quart of milk delivered, the empties being or trucks in sterilization, filling or awaiting delivery at the processing plants.

Exclusive of the milk used on government station, the homes in Newport purchase approximately 20,000 quarts of milk a day, representing some 80,000 containers which dealers must have in service, plus others to be used when needed for replacements. A peculiarity of the industry is that on Mondays several hundred new bottles must be put into use each Monday.

What happens to containers delivered Sundays has been a problem, for instead of altering back to plants during the next week, they simply disappear from use. Coupled to this is the failure of many homes to place empty bottles out for collection in severe cold or stormy weather, resulting in shortages of containers in these periods.

The proposal to charge a fixed fee, which under the government ruling may be from one cent upwards with no top limit set, was considered today. Dealers were still in session as the News went to press.

Hotels, restaurants, hospitals and stores are also affected by the federal rules. In the case of stores, no containers for milk less than one quart capacity are allowed, though pints and half pints of cream will be available, but neither milk nor cream may be returned to the dealer. The latter applies to hotels, restaurants, hospitals, schools, etc., as does the federal rule that deposits will be required for bottles and cases, also for milk and cream in cans or jugs for bulk sales. Regulations direct that dealers may not make special deliveries, call backs for collections or other purposes.

NAZI TANK VULNERABLE

British 6-Pounders K. O. 52-Ton Vehicle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 5 (AP)—A new 52-ton German mark VI tank had been knocked out on the Tunisian front by British six-pounders which pierced its thick armor with four shells, an Allied spokesman said tonight.

"We have investigated the tank inside and out and found that it had been pierced by four six-pounder shells," the spokesman said.

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—First battle estimates of Germany's giant new Mark VI tank failed to impress military observers here who said Thursday the weapon probably was of greater value defensively than for aggressive operations.

ROTC GROUP GETS FIRST-YEAR CHEVRONS

Rifle Team at Rogers High Prepares For Hearst Trophy Matches

Major Charles A. Carlson in charge of the Rogers High School R. O. T. C. unit, issued several orders to the battalion Thursday. In the first order, these cadets have been awarded first year chevrons. They are Edward B. Clarke, Paul F. Collins, Raymond Garcia, Louis R. Mumford, Russell Witter, Robert Schultzer and R. A. Olson.

The major also announced that a new mid-year class made up of 15 boys from the Junior and Senior classes will start at once. Major Carlson interviewed boys who were interested Thursday afternoon.

The other order issued was that the members of the rifle team are to be ready to take part in the Hearst competitions during the recess period which will come during the holidays of rationing time.

86-YEAR-OLD MULE DIES

WALES, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—Rosy, a mule whose owner believes she was 86 year old, is dead.

William Bowden bought Rosy 18 years ago in Willimantic, Conn., and at that time her age was verified, he said, by residents of Somers, Conn., where she was raised.

Besides something of a longevity record, Rosy had this epitaph from her master: "She was very good and gentle."

100,000 SENEGALESE OFFERED ALLIES

French West Africa Would Provide 200,000 If They Are Equipped

(By Wes Gallagher)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 5 (AP)—Governor General Pierre Boisson declared today that French West Africa was ready to furnish the Allies 100,000 trained Senegalese troops and a reserve of 200,000 more if equipment and leadership were provided.

"I have offered General Giraud 100,000 troops for immediate use and will provide 200,000 more if equipment and officers are provided to lead them," Boisson said at a press conference.

He said the reserve had "some military training, but was short on white officers."

Asked if the abortive British fighting French attack upon Dakar in 1940 was still a sore point in West Africa, in view of the liaison agreement between General Charles de Gaulle and General Giraud, Boisson smiled grimly.

"It is difficult to say," he responded. "Some feel strongly. Some do not. But it does not make any difference, because West Africa is well disciplined." The governor general, reputedly a tough but able colonial administrator, added that "the union of all French is necessary to beat the Germans and what is necessary to beat the Germans will be done."

Asked if de Gaulle officers would be acceptable to lead the Senegalese reserve troops, he replied: "That is a question for General Giraud to answer."

Boisson declared that the Germans never at any time had used Dakar for any purpose, "as the American representatives there know."

BOMBER CRASH

Co-Pilot Dared Shark-Infested New Guinea Waters to Recover Equipment

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Feb. 4 (Delayed)—(AP)—When their bomber crashed into the ocean a mile off the New Guinea coast recently, the American crew calmly escaped and the co-pilot spent the entire day diving into the submerged craft to recover equipment worth thousands of dollars.

The divers who dared the shark-infested water were Lieutenants William Pavlich of Point Jervis, N. Y., the pilot, and Forest Mowry, of Woonsocket, R. I., co-pilot. Others in the plane were Lieutenants Gerald Page of Larchmont, N. Y., navigator; Jack Thomas of Warsaw, Ind., bombardier; Sergeant John Morgan of Eureka, Mont., gunner; Corporal Thomas Buckley of Lansford, Penn., radio operator; and Corporal Raymond Wolff of Greensburg, Penn., engineer.

"We ran out of gasoline and had to crash-land a mile off shore," Pavlich said. "Fortunately, we got out without injury. Before the plane sank, we managed to get out the life rafts and some guns. Natives came out in boats and we went ashore with them. Mowry and I got the natives to take us back to the crash scene where we saw the plane on a reef under 14 feet of water."

"From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. we kept diving for stuff and filled two of the natives' boats before quitting."

The men recovered the bomb-sight, two 30-caliber machineguns, four 30-caliber machineguns, two rifles, pistols, all the ammunition they could carry, first aid kits, signal flares, radio kit, six parachutes.

MANPOWER RATION PROGRAM STARTED

War Industries to Have First Call on Labor; Job Shifts Curbed

(By Charles Melony)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A program for rationing of manpower to give war industries first call on the labor supply and to clamp restraints on job-switching by war workers was launched today by the War Manpower Commission.

Ordered into operation "as soon as practicable" in 32 widely-scattered areas of "critical" labor shortage, the program will tie millions to tasks deemed essential unless their employers or WMC agents approve their transfer to other work.

The WMC will take control over all but small-scale hiring in the 32 shortage areas—and perhaps in nearly twice as many areas where shortages are threatened—furnishing workers to employers under a priority system based on the employers' importance to the war.

Paul V. McNutt, WMC chairman, said the program would be carried out as a series of community operations, set up by WMC area directors working with management-labor committees, with broad national regulations adjusted to local conditions.

The WMC stressed that the project would be operated as a mutual and co-operative undertaking by government, management and labor to meet the mounting manpower problem.

The order provides guarantees that "in so far as it will not interfere with the effective prosecution of the war."

"No worker shall be obliged to accept or continue in employment which is not suitable."

"No employer shall be obliged to retain a worker who is incompetent or who fails to conform to reasonable shop rules or standards of conduct."

McNutt's order directed that except where agriculture is represented on the area management-labor committee, control over hiring of farm workers should be exercised only to curb transfers to non-agricultural work.

On the other hand, it declared that persons "engaged, or most recently engaged, in essential activities" could be employed only for work in another essential activity.

The United States Employment Service, a WMC unit, is to be the main hiring agency but the order directed "maximum utilization of all existing hiring channels" that would work under WMC rules.

Specified as such channels were private employers, labor professional organizations, schools, technical institutions, and government agencies.

The employment agencies were directed to:

"Place workers in jobs that 'will utilize their skills most effectively in the war effort.'"

"Accord priority to employers engaged in essential activities, in the order of the urgency of their activities."

Put workers in jobs "on the basis of their qualifications and without discrimination as to race, color, creed, sex, national origin or, except as required by law, citizenship."

Excluded from the requirements that all hiring in shortage areas be done under WMC supervision were:

Small establishments, which "in general" were defined as non-manufacturing establishments employing less than 25 persons and manufacturing firms employing less than eight.

Employment of domestic servants or "casual" (temporary) employees.

State, county or local governments, unless they "voluntarily request" that they be put under WMC regulations.

HITLER DEATH POSSIBILITY

Nazi Party Still Alive, Says Joseph E. Davies

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Joseph E. Davies, former Ambassador to Russia, suggested Thursday night on the "March of Time" radio program the possibility that Adolf Hitler is dead.

"These days of mourning and grief in Germany supposedly because of the Stalingrad defeat and the fact that Hitler did not make his 10th anniversary speech last week suggests the possibility that Hitler is dead," he said.

"But suppose Hitler is dead," Davies added. "The Nazi party with its industrial assets and military leaders is still alive. And even though Hitler were dead, the desperation of the German people fed by Goebbels' propaganda on the horror of a United Nations' victory will sustain the German war machine. A gigantic attempt to break through to the Baku oil field may be expected therefore this summer."

Davies, praising the Russian advance, declared that the German campaign there "is on the verge of being completely smashed."

BUCKET DROPS, KILLS MAN

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—Peter J. Corrigan, 44, father of two children, was killed today when hit by an empty 1,200-pound bucket that accidentally dropped from an overhead traveling crane in the open hearth department of the south works, American Steel and Wire Company.

HOW TO EAT POI: IN ONE EASY (BUT STICKY) LESSON

Miss Mildred Toketi of Honolulu instructs Private Mervyn Dagneaj of the U. S. A. in the fine art of eating poi at this traditional island feast, called a "Luncheon." POLICE RELIEF BODY NAMES ARMY BOMBER

Approves "Big Eddie" As Title For Craft Purchased Through K of O Drive

The Newport Police Relief Fund Association approved at its annual meeting Thursday evening the name of "Big Eddie of Newport, R. I." for the army bomber made possible through the Knights of Columbus War Bond drive conducted a short time ago. The police made the largest contribution to the campaign.

John J. Shea, who is serving in the army, was re-elected president. Joseph Radice was named vice president, Arthur Maloney secretary, Karl Lyons, treasurer. Those on the board of directors are Daniel Downing for five years, Frank Quinn for four years, Timothy L. Sullivan, three years, Frank Walsh was named to the board of finance for three years.

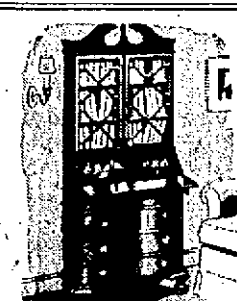

for "outstanding and heroic accomplishment" under adverse conditions against Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands.

General Vandergrift, a native of Charlottesville, Va., thus became the first marine in this war to receive both the Congressional Medal and the Navy Cross, having received the latter last October at Guadalcanal from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet.

RUMI TAX PLAN DRAWS FIRE

Crawford, Michigan Republican, Calls Move Almost Economic Blasphemy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Vigorously opposing the Rumi plan, Representative Crawford, (Republican, Michigan), told the House ways and means committee today advocacy of cancelling 1912 personal income tax obligations, as a means of attaining pay-as-you-go, was "almost economic blasphemy."

Committee members supporting the Rumi plan conceded they were on the defensive, though it appeared that virtually all the 25 representatives on the committee believed that some part of the taxes due March 15 would be cancelled or deferred. Taxpayers liable for income taxes under current law must file returns by March 15.

The Michigan representative himself proposed collection of taxes on last year's income by spreading the tax debt over a period of years, while the taxpayers at the same time paid on their current year levies.

"There is no reason for Congress to assume," he said, "that we are going to be flooded with mail demanding that we adopt such a system" as proposed by Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, before the committee Thursday.

He said his constituents had not suggested to him that 1912 tax obligations be cancelled, that they were too well informed and cognizant of the demands of the times.

Crawford criticized Ruml for what he termed an "inference" that business might cancel the debts of its customers. He said he was "utterly amazed."

SWANBURST HAS SOCIAL.

The Swanhurst Choral Society held a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. J. Ball on Hoffman place Thursday evening. Weather interfered with the original plan to hold it at the Art Association. The program included general singing, games and refreshments.

DRAFT PLEAS DECIDED

Two Newport area draft eligibles were denied deferment while a third was granted a temporary state in decisions announced today by the state Selective Service board of appeals.

Charles R. Penner, 55 Chapel street, was deferred until August 4 on appeal of the Naval Torpedo Station, Albert J. Prasso, 23 Vernon avenue, Newport, and Jonathan B. Munroe, Park avenue, Portsmouth, remained in 1A, available for immediate induction. The Torpedo Station had appealed for Prasso and Captain Alfred J. Brownell, his employer, for Munroe.

FIGHTERS NAMED

FOR BOXING CARNIVAL

Two Heavyweight Bouts on Card; Activities to Start at 7:30 Tonight

The program for tonight's boxing carnival at Rogers High School for the benefit of the Infantile Paralysis Fund, will include four bouts between boxers now in the service, and an exhibition bout between Steve Belois, contender for the world's middleweight crown and C. Keorkle of Bayonne, N. J.

The first bout on the card is a heavyweight affair, with Simon Guist, 180 pounds, of Pittsburgh, Pa., meeting Robert Schakow, 185, of Boston.

Kenneth Perri, 126, of Providence will battle Sal Pomilio of Philadelphia in a lightweight encounter. The semi-final event will be another clash of heavies, with A. A. Mammarella, 180, of Cantonville, Pa., battling R. W. White, 180, Silver Creek, N. Y., while in the final, Len Piccinini, 146, Worcester, Mass., will meet Martin Ross, 146, of New Britain, Conn.

On the vaudeville program, Newport's own contribution will be Jimmy Downes, now a tar in Uncle Sam's navy; Joe Macclavara, violinist; Vincent Venuto, trumpet; Roscoe Williams, dancer; Chuck Schwartz, comedy singer; Howard Murphy, singer and Tony Meli, better known as one of the stars of the U. S. S. Constellation, baseball team will appear as a vocalist.

Activities will start at 7:30. The plan to hold it at the Art Association. The program included general singing, games and refreshments.

BRITISH TROOPS

spread destruction from one end of New Britain island to the other. Japan's main feeder base for both the New Guinea and Solomon campaigns is located at Rabaul, New Britain.

It was the sixth consecutive night attack on Rabaul. The communiqué said other targets in New Britain included Wide bay, where an enemy warship was bombed; Gasmatia, where heavy bombers twice attacked the airdrome, starting big fires, and Cape Gloucester Airfield, which was raided twice.

Allied warplanes also bombed and gunned enemy bases at Salamaua, New Guinea, and on the Arore Islands to the west.

In ground fighting, Allied troops continued to press Japanese forces southwest of Salamaua, killing 89 of the enemy in attacks near Wau.

For Providence for physical examination and induction, Joseph L. Nunes, chairman of the board, was there and passed out pamphlets entitled "The Army and You."

GERMANS FACE

ENCIRCLEMENT

Nineteen landing craft were sunk, Berlin said.

(The German communiqué also reported "strong enemy attacks in the Don estuary region," indicating the Red army was near Rostov.)

One strongly-fortified defense line southeast of Rostov, already has been shattered, the Soviet midnight war bulletin announced. (This apparently was about 80 miles southeast of Rostov, at Kagalmitskaya.)

(The Russian midday communiqué, as recorded by the Soviet radio monitor in London, said the Red army advance continued in the night's fighting south of Rostov, another town being captured on the distant approaches to the city and tankmen wiping out about a battalion of enemy infantry after penetrating deep into the German transcaucasus defenses.)

(East of Kursk, the Russians announced another 1,485 enemy men and officers, along with their equipment, were captured in two days of fighting, and a number of towns were taken in another sector of that front at the north end of the line.)

(An informed source in London said last night that Germany and her companions in the Russian war had lost more than 1,000,000 men since last November 18, when the Russians began their winter offensive.)

(The source said the speed of the Russian advance had torn apart the famed Nazi defense-in-depth system and resulted in a re-casting of the Soviet high command's objectives, even though the Russian rate of advance would be slowed by the spring thaw.)

One Russian army was only 22 miles north of Kursk, at Zolotukhino, and the announced capture of Shmely, 33 miles east, and Tim, 42 miles southwest, put two more Red army pincers within reach of Kursk.

PLUMLEY ON SUBSIDIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Agriculture Department's announcement that subsidies would be paid to farmers under a new incentive program was described today by Representative Plumley, Republican, Vermont, as "an encroachment on the Constitutional prerogatives of the Congress."

He appealed to the War Production Board in Washington to aid in re-opening the mills before they faced a major task in finding new workers.

Senator Theodore Francis Green and Governor J. Howard McGrath conferred Thursday afternoon and later the governor said that he had been informed that 50,000 gallons of bunker "C" oil had been released by the armed forces for distribution in Boston. The governor said it was likely that some of this oil would come into Rhode Island. Some of the original 50,000 gallons, released by the army and navy for emergency relief is still unassigned, it was said.

In Washington, Senator Green conferred with the new OPA administrator, Prentiss M. Brown, to take steps to increase the supply of oil for Rhode Island. But Mr. Brown said that was not possible at this time because there was not enough oil to go around.

ROONEY'S TO BE DIVORCED

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 5 (AP)—This time it's final with the Mickey Rooney's. They just can't agree. She's going to file that divorce suit she started last September and dropped the following month.

Mickey, the 22-year-old veteran who is the biggest box office draw in the show business, did not amplify a joint statement he signed with his 19-year-old bride, the former Ava Gardner of Wilson, N. C. They said:

"We are separating and giving up our home. We both sincerely regret that we could not work out our problems together."

Ava said she would see her lawyer today about the divorce. Last fall she charged cruelty, and asked for an equitable division of $200,000 community property.

Harry T. Freeman Addresses

Group, Tours Business

Sections of City

At a meeting of zone and sector wardens at Civilian Defense Headquarters Thursday night, Harry T. Freeman, state dimout and blackout marshal, spoke on the dimout regulations, and later made a tour of the business districts along Tbamess street and Broadway to obtain first hand information of conditions. He was accompanied on his inspection by Charles Murphy, Samuel Kershner, and Albert Worral, sector wardens.

Mr. Freeman said he was well satisfied with conditions. He said he was prepared to let merchants how they might get a little more light in their windows with the smaller watt light bulbs, and still keep within war regulations.

A movie window may be set up here at some future date to show merchants what can be done, he said.

DEFENSE WARDENS AID

IN SEARCH FOR FLIERS

Army Reports Plane Lost In

This Area; Three Chutists

Still Missing

Search was conducted here by Civilian Defense wardens in this area as well as local Middletown, Portsmouth, Tiverton and Little Compton police Thursday evening for army aviators said to have bailed out of a plane from a height of 13,000 feet about dusk.

Today, the Associated Press said that the First Air Force reported an army airplane from Harrisburg, Pa., was lost Thursday afternoon in the vicinity of Cape Cod while on a routine flight and that one of the four-man crew parachuted to safety. The three others, it was said, were reported to have parachuted but they were unreported today and a search was being made.

The army announcement said one officer bailed out safely and was taken to Camp Edwards, Mass., and that unofficial reports said two parachutists had landed between Bristol, R. I., and Swansea, Mass.

The local search was called off about 1 o'clock Thursday night. Donald Fraser and John A. Booth, sector wardens, and their men searched from Easton's Beach to Brenton Point.

The search was also carried out on the island.

ALLIES BOMB

PACIFIC BASES

oment of the Tunisian campaign. Observers said the latest model Nazi fighters fell in flames like a shower of meteorites as the bombers repelled their passes with .50 calibre machine-guns.

There was little action on the drawn-out front lines in Tunisia, with the Germans apparently not ready to attempt to widen the corridor by which Marshal Rommel is expected to try to withdraw to the Tunis-Bizerte area.

This corridor, averaging about 70 miles in width from Bizerte to the Marth Line, offers the Allies a number of chances to choke off the Axis with a sudden attack toward the sea.

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The situation in southern Tunisia appeared today to be shaping up into a battle for the "Gables gap," bottleneck in the narrow coastal plain along the Gulf of Gabes, where Field Marshal Rommel is expected to make his stand against the British 8th Army, massing across the border in Libya.

Although there has been little news from the 8th Army during the last few days, observers here regarded the seeming lack of activity on the part of General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops as merely the lull before the storm.

Recalling similar lulls that preceded the smashing British assaults at El Alamein and El Agheila, these quarters assumed the Montgomery has been busy building up his forces for an all-out lightning assault.

When he does strike—and it may be soon—the character of the terrain facing his army is such that it may roll forward with considerable speed until it strikes the Marth Line, some 65 miles inside of Tunisia.

There Montgomery will have the alternatives of trying to blast his way westward along the coastal road, where the plain bordering the sea funnels down to a width of about 20 miles, or skirting inland around readily defensible mountain ridges that rise in some places to a height of more than 3,200 feet.

HOUSE GETS BILL

ON COMPENSATION

under Dr. Raymond G. Bressler, state director of agriculture.

The agriculture department would set aside state-owned lands for gardens and the state department of public works would co-operate in making idle acres productive by giving such assistance as may be necessary. Rhode Islanders would be given free access to allotted pieces of land which would be converted into vegetable gardens. Assistance would also be given by state departments in cultivating and harvesting. A provision in the bill prohibits sale in open market of the crops thus raised.

Under a bill introduced by Senator Michael J. Kilroy, North Smithfield Republican, employees would cease making contributions to the unemployment compensation fund after next May 1. Employees now pay one and one half per cent of their wages to the state, one per cent going into the sickness insurance fund and the remainder into the unemployment compensation fund which has been soared to over $30,000,000. Kilroy's bill would suspend the latter payments indefinitely.

Introduced by Senator Dominic DiSandro, Providence Democrat, was a bill changing the year for the issuance of liquor licenses to correspond with the period for which victualling permits are issued. The measure, a repeater from last year, is designed to have both licenses issued at the same time and thus eliminate a lot of bookkeeping and clerical work by local licensing authorities.

PROCTOR, GAMBLE ACQUIT-TEAU

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A directed verdict of acquittal was ordered today by Judge George S. Sweeney in the case of the Procter and Gamble Company, the Procter and Gamble Manufacturing Company and the Procter and Gamble Distributing Company charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud. Three employees of the firm were fined and one was given a suspended sentence.

Charges in the case were based on allegations that the Procter and Gamble firm had used the mails in a conspiracy to obtain trade secrets of a rival firm of soap manufacturers, Lever Brothers, of Cambridge, Mass.

STORK BEATS CAB

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—A woman in distress rushed into a liquor store, told the clerk she must get to a hospital.

The clerk asked a Policeman Francis O'Connor to call a taxi cab, but by the time the cab arrived, O'Connor reported, the woman, Mrs. Blanche Butler, walked out of a rear room of the store, carrying a new-born baby in her arms. O'Connor and the cab driver took the new mother and baby home.

U. S. MAY WORK WAR PRISONERS

Moves To Bolster Farm
Labor; Ruml Tax Plan
Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The government moved on a broad front today to bolster the nation's manpower forces and assure an adequate supply of labor for war industries in areas where shortages exist.

J. O. Walker, chief of the labor branch of the Food Production Administration, disclosed the government was considering the use of Axis war prisoners on farms and the shifting of 60,000 families from marginal areas of the South and Mid West to dairy, livestock and poultry farms.

This followed the War Manpower Commission's announcement that it would take control as quickly as possible over the hiring and firing of workers in 32 areas where workers are scarce. Meanwhile, advocates of skipping last year's income taxes to put collections on a pay-as-you-earn basis appeared to be losing their fight before the House ways and means committee.

Most committee members were plainly hostile to the Ruml plan, which would ignore last year's taxes, but there were increasing signs that some of last year's levies would be forgiven in changing to a current paying basis. Just how much is yet to be settled.

Committee supporters of the plan advanced by Beardsley Ruml, New York banker, frankly conceded they could not muster a majority of voters after Ruml completed testimony on his proposal Thursday. The committee's first witness today is Representative Crawford (Republican, Michigan), who declared it was "almost economic blasphemy" to advocate forgiving last year's taxes.

Backers of the Senate legislation cheating an overall war mobilization agency appealed to the public to save the bill from the military affairs committee after losing their battle to place it with the more receptive labor and education committee.

Senator Pepper (Democrat, Florida), and co-sponsor, expressing fear that the military committee might kill the bill, declared the public wanted an agency vesting control over war contracts in civilian hands. He asserted that if legislators heeded wishes of military authorities, "the present set-up won't be changed."

The accident's prevention program of the United States Department of Labor saved over 1,000,000 man-days for war production last year.

FRENCH GENERAL INSPECTS U. S. FIGHTER PLANES

Major General Jean Marie Bergeret (center), assistant French high commissioner of French North Africa, casts a genial eye at a line of 12 P-10 U. S. Warhawk fighter planes that will be used by the Free French air forces. With him at a North African base are Major General James Doolittle (left) and Major General Carl Spaatz, commanders of Allied air operations in North Africa.

UNION COMMENDS CONGRESSMAN FOGARTY

Wharf, Dock Builders, Local Passes Resolution, Promises Support

Wharf and Dock Builders Local 871, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, at a recent meeting in Carpenters' Hall passed a resolution commending Congressman John E. Fogarty for his foresightedness in the need of establishing a navy yard in this area, and assuring him of the wholehearted support of the organization.

The resolution said Narragansett bay is necessary to the defense of the Northeastern area of the United States; it has been recognized by naval authorities and strategists for a long time as an ideal location for a base; the Navy Department has recognized this in the location of naval establishments here; and Congressman Fogarty seeks to have a navy base in this vital area where there are now many naval establishments which could complement any such base.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt Thursday night congratulated Premier Stalin of Russia on the "brilliant victory at Stalingrad" of the armies under his supreme command.

AGENTS RAID STILL

Officer Rescued From Vat of Liquor Mash

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—An alcoholic tax unit agent was forced to struggle for his life in thousands of gallons of mash when he plunged into a huge vat during a night raid on a large, allegedly illicit distillery, federal officials disclosed today.

The agent, Charles Carlstrom, former Boston traffic policeman, paddled around until fellow officers pulled him out.

Fifteen thousand pounds of granulated sugar, 10,000 gallons of sugar mash, 200 gallons of high proof alcohol and 500 gallons of "high wine," described by officers as first run liquor, were seized by federal agents and Boston police. It was revealed in a raid on an old brewery building in the Roxbury district Thursday night.

Three men were arrested and will be charged with operating a still.

VON PAPPEN RECALLED

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A Reuters despatch from Ankara said Thursday Franz von Pappen, Adolf Hitler's ambassador to Turkey, had been recalled to Berlin. Presumably he was to be asked to report on the Ankara conference of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the Turkish President Ismet Inonu, held while the ambassador was away on a skiing trip.

PORTSMOUTH RED CROSS WORKERS TO MEET

Volunteers Must Receive Instructions Before Canvass Begins, Executives Announce

A meeting of the executive committee of Portsmouth Chapter, American Red Cross, at the Henry F. Anthony School next Monday evening will be followed by a meeting of workers who have volunteered or who plan to volunteer in the annual financial drive. The campaign chairman has announced that because the quota assigned to the chapter this year is much above that of a year ago, as a result of war activities, workers are urgently needed and must receive instructions before a canvass may begin.

ARMY APPETITE

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—Ever wonder what a soldier eats when he gets away from camp?

Patrons of a cafeteria here saw one khaki-clad youngster load his tray with fish, ham and mashed potatoes, steak and French fried potatoes, avocado salad, black-eyed peas, macaroni and cheese, five rolls and butter, four glasses of ice tea and two kinds of pie. Half-way through his meal he stopped long enough to announce belligerently to bug-eyed occupants of nearby tables: "Well, I'm hungry."

JAP SHIP HIT OFF NEW GUINEA

Camouflaged Craft Proved Perfect Set-Up for Flying Fortress, Says Flier

(By Vern Haugland)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Feb. 4 (Delayed) (AP)—A Japanese ship, carefully camouflaged, lay just off Arave, on the southwest coast of New Britain, today.

Toward evening, Captain William Thompson, of Canton, Ohio, came ship-bombing in his Flying Fortress and scored a direct hit. "It was a perfect set-up for us," Captain Thompson said. "It was a ship of a thousand tons or thereabouts, with palm leaves all over to make it look like an island."

"We made four skip-bombing runs. Our direct hit set her on her side. She partially submerged in shallow water a mile offshore."

Captain Robert Deatta of Moscow, Idaho, co-pilot of the fortress, said the ship apparently had a load of lumber and a small crew. The plane gunned the vessel on each run.

Thompson's navigator was Lieutenant Robert Butler of Saint Pauls, N. C., and Lieutenant Robert Orth of Gary, Ind., was his bombardier.

Other Flying Fortresses attacked Rabaul airdrome today. Bombs for this heavy bomber group this week included a battle between 15 Zeros and a plane piloted by Lieutenant Arthur Curran of Paloson, N. J., in which two Zeros probably were shot down, and a brush between a Japanese four-engine bomber near Bougainville and a fortress, piloted by Lieutenant Francis Denault of West Springfield, Mass.

Denault said the bomber "beat it" after a couple of exchanges of gunfire.

Liberator bombers attacked Cape Gloucester and Gasmata.

The most concentrated attack of the day was on Lae airdrome. Boston attack planes bombed the runways and destroyed a small launch in an inlet near the town. The Australian-manned Bostons also attacked the dispersal area. A large force of Billy Mitchells hit the airdrome installations and silenced anti-aircraft positions.

Lieutenant Wilbur Pavlich of Point Jervis, N. Y., pilot of one of the Mitchells, said that both sides of the runway were bombed.

Boston bombers also gunned village huts and supply dumps in the Mubo-Komintum sector.

The population of strategic Schleussburg, often called the key to Leningrad, is about 7,000.

TURKEY SEES THE LIGHT

Still another straw that shows the direction of the wind is Turkey.
Little doubt now exists as to how that practical country is leaning these days. The recent meeting between Prime Minister Churchill and President Ismet Inonu of Turkey was a good indication.
The conference between these leaders plainly would not have been held unless there appeared good reason for an understanding.
The Turkish announcement that President Inonu had not been asked to declare war, and that their country had no intention of going to war without holds for the immediate future. What the Turks would do if the Nazis tried to vacate their neutrality is another question.

There have been years of diplomatic endeavor by Great Britain and Germany, each wishing to have Turkey on its side. It appears as though Britain and the United Nations have won here.
There was a time, when the sweep of Hitler's armies through the Balkans and Russia made it seem only a little while before Turkey would be engulfed. The Soviet army's remarkable successes have changed all that.

Although Turkey lost much of her European holdings after the first World War, when she was allied with Germany, she still controls enough in Europe and in Asia to say what is to go on in the Dardanelles. She is, too, in strategic position to block any Nazi push at the Persian oil fields.
So she is a nation to be wooed and won.

Hitler has done his wooing through one of his best in-triguers, Fritz von Papen. The United States knew him in the first World War when he was expelled before we entered the conflict. He has been trying to impress the Turks with Berlin's might, and to get them lined up with the Axis.

To a practical nation such as Turkey is known to be, probably more than anything else, the deciding factor is force. Now that it seems certain the United Nations will become the eventual winners, and that an aroused and powerful Russia will stand for no Nazi interference to the South, Turkey apparently has decided her advantage lies with the victors.

Mr. Churchill, at the recent unannounced meeting on Turkish soil, doubtless made President Inonu see it that way, if he had not seen the light before. This meeting in Turkey, like that of President Roosevelt and President Vargas in Brazil, was one of many things decided upon at the Casablanca conference. Both are steps forward, probably Turkey further than Brazil.

WAR PLANES

As the leader of the world in production, it was to be expected that the United States would provide an important addition to the war in manufacturing aircraft.
The total of 5,489 planes produced in December, recently announced, records a steadily increasing number, but it remains, in spite of much effort, still below the capacity of this country.

The expectation is that, in 1943, the goal will be raised so it will be possible to go above 100,000 in planes to be used by this country,
Great Britain, Russia and China.
That, would average above 8,000 planes a month, a decided increase over the December figures.

If this country fully adopted the mass system of production for airplanes, as it had done for automobiles, the number built undoubtedly would have been much greater. Instead, manufacturers, with the full approval of the War and Navy Departments, have continued along with the more laborious "tailored" system. This gives planes that can hold their own with the best made in other countries.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, calls

"truly amazing" the 500 per cent rise in munition production since Pearl Harbor. He gives credit to the American workers and manufacturers. What has been done elsewhere has been done at the Torpedo Station here, where output is known to be several times
what it was only a few years back.
For airplanes, there is an understandable unbalance in production.
Manufacturers, accustomed to speed with automobile making,
are turning out the engines faster than the rest of the planes can be constructed. That creates a problem of storing the engines. To counteract this, some of the metal going into surplus engines is being diverted to frames and frame parts.

With the goal set by the administration, and with thousands of workers at giant plants in various parts of the country devoted wholly to manufacturing, it is reasonable to believe that this industrial nation, under the spur of necessity, will alone be able to produce many more planes than all the Axis countries combined.
That is as it should be. Air power will be a most important, if not the decisive factor in the outcome of the war. This and other of the United Nations must have more planes than the Axis.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts start on Saturday to observe the thirty third anniversary of the founding of the movement in this country.
Here in Newport the organization is almost as old as that, as it was formed shortly after the national organization was. It has been carried on very successfully until today scouting is more vigorous than ever before in Newport.

The work the Boy Scouts do cannot be overestimated. The program, mentally and physically is intended to carry boys over the period from boyhood to manhood.
This takes them through the trying time of adolescence, when there are so many influences that might lead them to juvenile delinquency or worse.

That, in itself, would make the scout program worth while. There is more to it, though, that deserves support. Boys through it learn much that is practical.
They are taught, for example,
first aid, wood craft, how to take care of themselves and others in all sorts of emergencies. Besides, there is instilled the principles of Americanism.

The Scouts, too, are a great aid to the communities where they exist. They act as guides, help out in civic affairs, do much to assist in campaigns for the war effort. They make themselves a useful part of community life.
They do it all quietly, unassumingly, but they certainly would be missed if they were not here.

So this is a time to be thankful that we have the Boy Scouts. It is, as well, a time to see that youngsters who do not belong, but should, get into the Scouts. It is good for them, for their parents, and for the city as a whole. It makes them better individuals and citizens, and it works toward a broader, more wholesome community life.

The motto of the Boy Scouts, freely rendered, is always to be prepared. That is a motto the nation as a whole might have. The Scouts themselves are helping their country be prepared by following a program that will bring out the very best in the young people and make them citizens worthy of being called Americans.

This is the time to congratulate the Boy Scouts for all that they have done in the past, to wish them the very best for the future, and to do all possible to assist them in the fine work they are doing for the greater America of the years to come.

Keeping house for six of her eight children and one grandchild doesn't take all of Mrs. Maude C.
Rowland's time. So she works a full shift in a San Diego, Cal., humber factory, six days a week.
Husband Frank has a war job, too.

George Taylor of Marchant street is receiving numerous congratulations these days, and it has come to the point where it is embarrassing. Recently the Representative Council elected a George Taylor as building inspector. It was Mr. Taylor of 19 Appleby street, a carpenter.

Friends of Mr. Taylor of March-ant street began congratulating him. At first he thought they were joking, but when some leading figures in the Democratic party extended their good wishes, in all seriousness, then Mr. Taylor of Marchant street knew that something was amiss. When a newspaper man called him for a photograph, he thought there should be an end to it.

So, to make the record clear and avoid any further misunderstanding, it is set down that it is Mr.
Taylor of Appleby street and not
Mr. Taylor of Marchant street who is the new building inspector.
All interested, and especially Democratic office holders, take notice.

A certain young woman who works in a state office has made several trips to New York recently. She says that when she was there she visited the zoo. Her friends think that there are other attractions in the city beside those of the animal kingdom. Maybe something in a uniform?

A well-known Thames Street druggist was awakened out of a sound slumber a few nights ago by the angry ringing of the telephone bell. He lifted the receiver sleepily, and found that two of his friends vacationing in New York were on the other end of the wire.
Newport may have been all locked up at that time, but apparently they were just starting out in New York. And how!

Washington Day Book

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—When President Roosevelt delivered his message to Congress, he inadvertently left out the achievement of the Maritime Commission in surpassing his 1942 shipbuilding goals.

The next day he explained that the figures were dropped accidentally from his speech. That belittled announcement was anti-climax. It is only now that the actual accomplishments of the Maritime Commission in 1942 are really coming to light.

This is all the more important because Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman, and his commission have been under fire repeatedly.
Charges ranging from incompetency through unfair treatment of labor to political log-rolling have been laid at the commission's door.
There is no intention of discussing these charges here. I only want to reiterate what the President took the trouble to emphasize—that the Maritime Commission, in 1942, did a whale of a job. The goal laid down for them was 8,000-000 deadweight tons of shipping.
When the President announced (in 1941) this among the production goals for tanks, planes, etc., there wasn't a figure in the lot that seemed more fantastic.

Back in 1937, the commission's program was an average of 50 ships a year. In 1942, the production was 746 ships with an aggregate deadweight tonnage of 8,000-800 tons.

THERE is more to this, too, than meets the eye. In the course of the year, according to Admiral

INVITATION FOR BIDS

National Housing Agency, Federal Public Housing Authority,
Boston, Massachusetts, February 5, 1943. Contract Documents, including drawings and specifications, are available at the office of the Federal Public Housing Authority, 21
School Street, Boston, Mass. These documents are made available at this time for the purpose of obtaining sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor and materials, and performing all work necessary and incidental to the construction and completion of community building, construction for War Housing Project RI-3701, located in Middletown, Rhode Island. The work will consist of general construction, lawns and planting, site improvements, plumbing, heating and electrical work, and all other work necessary or incidental to the completion of the entire project.
The contract documents, including the drawings and specifications, may be obtained by making a deposit in the sum of $50 for the first set and $10 for each additional set. Deposits shall be in the form of a money order, certified check, or cashier's check, made payable to the Treasurer of the United States. The deposit will be returned to all bidders who return the contract documents within ten (10) days after the date of opening bids. Attention has been made for an extensive priority rating applicable to all materials and equipment required for the project.
Such rating, when granted, will be extended to the general contractor, and to all subcontractors, suppliers and service providers, as required. Attention is directed to the fact that the wage rates specified in the Contract Documents are the minimum wage rates which may be paid on this project.
The purpose of issuing an invitation at this time is to inform contractors of the availability of the contract documents, which will be forwarded to contractors on request. Plans and specifications, by the Federal Public Housing Authority, after the exclusive right of the contractor to submit a bid has been received, will be examined by the architect, and the contract documents and equipment will be returned to the contractor and the contractor will be notified of the results of the examination.
It is the policy of the Federal Public Housing Authority to award contracts to the lowest bidder who meets the requirements of the contract documents, and who is qualified to perform the work without delay, with an available and financially sound organization and equipment, and who is previously qualified and has previously completed developments or structures of comparable size, and (c) that the bidder is a bona fide experienced general contractor. Bidders considered for this project must be qualified and identified as such by (Date and Place); (Name and Address of Bidder); (Date and Address of a money order, certified check, or cashier's check, made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, or a satisfactory bid in an amount not less than two percent (2%) of the bid, will be required. Submit to W. J. Wiley, Acting for the Commissioner of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

ALDERMEN SEEK BIDS ON STREET LIGHTING

Ask Gas, Electric Companies to Submit Estimates

Board Authorizes Closing of Former Fire House, Acts on Licenses, Bills

On motion of Alderman Edward A. Martin, the Board of Aldermen Thursday afternoon voted to ask the Newport Electric Corporation and the Newport Gas Light Company to submit by next Thursday at 4 o'clock bids for lighting the streets with electricity and gas. The action was taken pursuant to a resolution the Representative Council passed Tuesday night directing the aldermen to seek proposals.

Alderman James A. Dwyer said he felt there should be a reduction in the costs because lights are turned out completely or turned down low as a result of the dimout and blackout regulations. Mayor Herbert E. MacIntyre said there were other factors to be considered. Prices for one, two, three, four and five years will be asked.

There was a discussion of the waste disposal collections and whether or not the city could cart away more than the maximum allowed business men and then charge them for it. The mayor said it was not permissible to rent city equipment, he did not see how this could be done, feeling that it was simply renting the trucks to merchants.

On motion of Alderman Dwyer, Judge John C. Burke, city solicitor, was asked to look into the legality of the matter and report next week. The city solicitor said he knew of no law compelling the city to collect garbage. He asked how an ordinance for charging or surplus waste collection would be enforced.

Asks About Hillside Ave.
Alderman Louis H. Scott asked the public works commissioner if something could be done to Hillside avenue to give relief. The latter said he could scarf it and put in a roadbed, but the cost would be high. He explained if the holes are merely coldpatched or otherwise filled the job will not last long. He said there was no new road construction this year and materials will be cut one third.

Alderman Martin asked the commissioner to try to do something about cleaning out the side streets. He said conditions are very bad there. There was a long discussion of the street cleaning problem.

Dr. John H. Finn, public welfare director, was authorized to close the former fire house at Equality Park, used recently for welfare purposes. He explained his desire to close the building was due to a general economy move, centralization of welfare in his office, conserving fuel and because WPA has been abandoned. The mayor said it was a good idea. The telephone and utility connections will be removed.

French Ordinance Read
The city solicitor read a modification of the ordinance on "fire department to permit asking the council for an appropriation to take care of the pay of additional men and to raise all men to first class. The changed ordinance applies for the war duration. It will be sent to the council, which referred the matter back to the aldermen Tuesday night.

The public works commissioner reported on a damage claim of Mrs. Lucille Martin and the matter was continued a week.

Members of the board said the council committee to investigate the highway department was meeting, and that the mayor and the aldermen were supposed to meet with them but had received no notice.

The board voted to notify the public works commissioner to attend all meetings for the next two years.

The payrolls and bills were approved and ordered paid. The theatre licenses were granted. Dance licenses were granted. The Blue Moon, the Bohemian Gardens, the Red Men and the Ideal.

Charles H. McManus was granted a plumber's license. Application of Marie's Variety Store for a Sunday selling license was referred to the alderman from the ward, and that of Theodore K. Parkos was held up pending a Health Board report on the victualing house license. Stavros Melikas was granted transfer of a victualing house and Sunday selling license. The application of Paul M. Contos for a victualing house license was referred to Alderman Perrotti.

James W. Dwyer was granted an auctioneer's license.

ZIVIC, BEAU JACK CLASH TONIGHT

Odds Favor Negro to Beat Veteran; Pittsburgher Has Weight Advantage

[By Sid Feder]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—It looks like the old numbers game when Fritz Zivic collides with Beau Jack tonight, what with the merry tunes the customers are playing on Mike Jacobs' cash registers and the fancy odds the bewildered betting boys are offering against Fritz.

On the one hand Uncle Michael is looking for a crowd of more than 15,000 of the cash contributors and a bundle of more than $50,000 in the "book" by the time the two thumpers go to work at 10 P. M. (EWT) in Madison Square Garden.

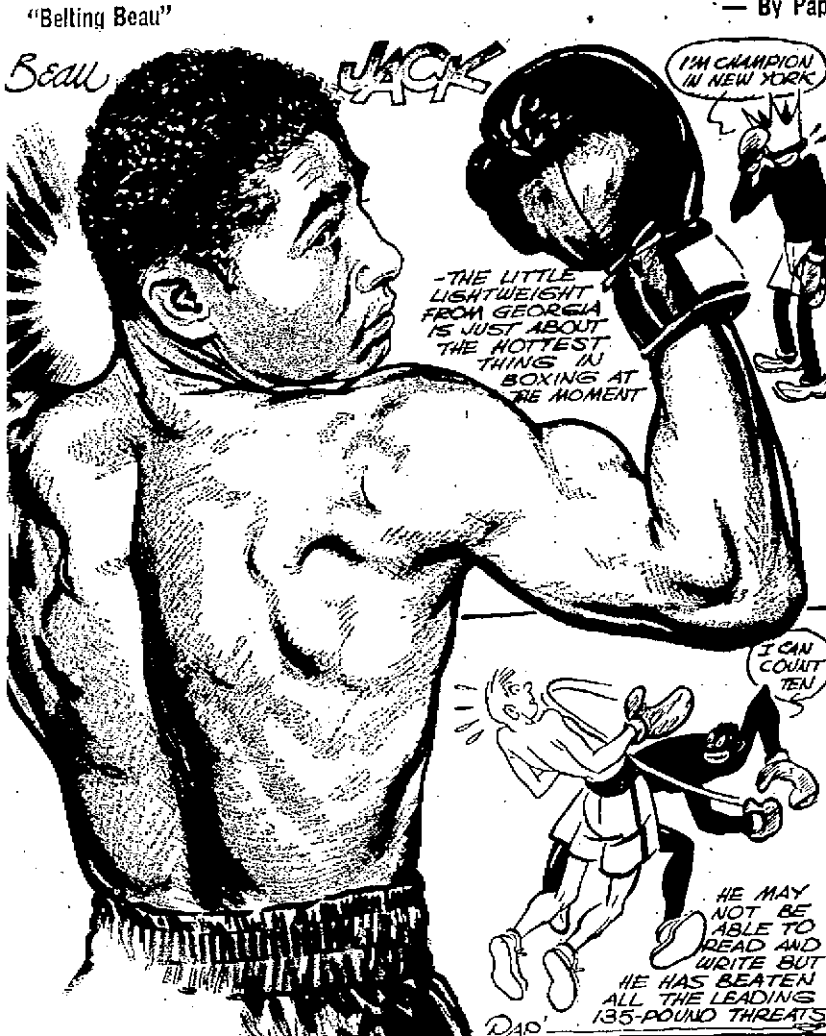

On the other hand you have a picture of the slightly silly prize-makings, somewhat shell-shocked after losing weeks without a winner, installing the Beau, a 5 to 12 favorite for no apparent reason. It could be, of course, they've received some "inside dope" that the Beau is going to climb into the battle pit with a couple of ball bats. Otherwise, however, the odds appear as out-of-line as a slightly bent pretzel, especially when coming from such big-hearted boys as the bookmakers.

As for the ball bats, you have it on good authority that the little Negro jackrabbit from Georgia definitely will not be armed tonight. As a matter of fact, most folks believe the one-time boot-black has more than enough natural equipment to just about these flat-footed Fritzies clear up into the Garden's second deck. They point out that he's a strong, young kid, with a rushing, charging, bull style that it just what the doctor would not order for the last of the Five Flying Zivics from Pittsburgh.

In this respect, a goodly portion of the boys and girls completely overlook the fact that as an old war horse who's been around 10 years, Fritz has learned enough about the business of busting heads to know slightly more than one and one about handling strong young fellows without too much experience.

On top of that, Fritz is betting on himself this time. What's more, he'll have a 10-pound pull in the weights—something like 145 to 135.

As a result and in spite of the fact Jack is on a year-long winning streak, which has carried him to recognition as world lightweight champion in New York, this corner rides with Fritz this time.

DE LA SALLE MEETS CENTRAL HERE TONIGHT

Crusaders to Seek Revenge For Defeat Upstate Early in Season

De La Salle Academy eagles will open the second half of their "home and home" basketball series when they meet Central High on the home floor tonight.

Central gave the Hilltoppers their initial opposition in the opening half of the series on the upstate court and sent the Newporter home on the short end of a 36-34 score.

Tonight, however, the Crusaders are at full strength and on their own court they may be able to trim Central.

Phil Kenney and "Duke" Boiani will support the team at the forward posts. Dick Hole will jump at center, and Eddie Corrigan and Frank Sullivan will play the back courts.

Chick (Hercules) Wergel, manager of Beau Jack, was talking about what happens to fighters after Beau Jack gets through with them. Beau Jack trounced 13 opponents during 1942, the last of whom brought him the world lightweight title when he knocked out Tippy Larkin in less than three rounds.

"Look at Albie Stolz," said Wergel. "Beau Jack softened him up so that a featherweight like Willie Pep, licked him easily. And Tippy Larkin—why he hasn't even had a fight since Beau knocked him out."

"What happened to Carmen Watta after my man belted him out? He hasn't been the same since. How about Chester Rico? He's out of the lightweight picture now and you can go back to Beau Jack for the reason."

"Beau Jack knocked out Cosby Linton and Linton hasn't been heard from since. Terry Young? Has he won a fight since Beau gave him a going over? Poison Ivy had to retire. Nobody has heard from Billy Murray since his fight with Beau!" And so it goes.

EISENHOWER GOOD IN RING

Abilene, Kas. Feb. 5 (AP)—Publisher Charley Harger of Abilene tells about the time that Lieutenant General Dwight Eisenhower, United States commander in North Africa, came home on vacation to Abilene, while he was attending West Point. A prize fighter boasted he could "lick anyone in the state of Kansas." Eisenhower, says Harger, heard about the boast and challenged the fellow. When the future general knocked the professional fighter out in two rounds his reputation was established in Abilene.

FULLER BEATS TORRES

Veteran Gets Unanimous Verdict In 10-Rounder

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Approaching his thirty seventh birthday and with more than 15 years of boxing behind him, Sammy Fuller today appeared to have his comeback campaign well launched.

That stubby veteran, after a five years layoff, returned to the ring Thursday night at the Mechanics Building and out-punched the much younger and very rugged Joe Torres of New York, for a unanimous 10-round decision.

Fuller, who weighed 141 1/2, a pound less than his opponent, dropped him for a seven-count with a furious storm of hooks to the head and body. In the second round and used that same lusty attack to keep him in distress almost all of the last half of the battle.

SELKIRK HAPPY IN NAVY POST

Connie Mack to Mark Eightieth Birthday With Party Tonight

[By Bill King]

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—When his navy superiors at Newport learned that the Yankees' George (Twink) Selkirk, now a boat-swain's mate, was an even better marksman than a ballplayer, they hustled him off to the rifle range to instruct recruits. That Canadian-born veteran of five World Series appears more than happy to be out of baseball for the duration.

"The fans won't expect very much with so many players in the armed services and even if the play will not be up to past standards, they won't be disappointed as long as the competition is keen," he reasons. Selkirk believes that Northern spring training will not make much difference, for he is convinced it always has been overdone in the past.

When Eddie Jeremiah retired as the Dartmouth hockey coach the other day to accept his navy commission, he packed for a long journey. So the navy crossed him up by ordering him to return to Dartmouth for his basic training.

Up in Hanover it is recalled that George Hoban, the Lehigh football coach who was fatally stricken by a heart attack the other day, was the last Freshman to make a football letter before Dartmouth installed its new rescripted three-year rule. Hoban wound up his playing career at Lehigh before the last World War.

Bob Quinn, who broke into baseball only a few years after Connie Mack made his first appearance in the majors with Washington back in 1906, will be one of the chief speakers at the East Brookfield squire's 80th birthday party tonight in Philadelphia. Quinn is the only active figure now in the game who can attest that Connie was a 382-slogging manager—catcher for Pittsburgh 48 years ago.

As far as Quinn is concerned, and he's seen all of them, Mack rates as the game's wonderman. "And that's a gross understatement when one recalls that Connie will be starting his 50th term as a manager a few weeks hence."

Down through the years this department has encountered the chief executives of about every major sports organization on the list but never did it ever meet any one in any way like the studious, gentle and affable Frank Calder, the National League's late president. His calm, and unruffled progress through and around the army of hotheads that hockey has produced during a quarter-century verges on the supernatural.

Like most veteran hockey writers who have covered a fair share of his league meetings, this one always marvels at Frank's amazing exits. "Puffing his pipe, he would sit at the head of the conference table for hours at a time as his governors stormed and raged and almost flew at each others' throats. Then, just when the waiting scribes became so alarmed over the uproar that they were about to break in to prevent bloodshed, Calder would slide out of the bedlam and, in his most benign manner, report: "Gentlemen, nothing, absolutely nothing, of importance has been transacted. I beg your pardon, there was one small matter that might interest you. So-and-so drafted such-and-so from such-and-so. Everything else on the agenda was routine."

BOXING CARNIVAL AT ROGERS TONIGHT

Arrangements For Program Include Vaudeville Acts, Musical Numbers

Preparations have been completed for the boxing carnival for the benefit of the Infirmary Paralysis to be held at the Rogers High School tonight according to Lieutenant Commander John Davis, U. S. N., retired, commanding the Constellation, who will be in general charge assisted by members of the Athletic and Recreation Department of the Training Station.

Commander Davis will have a troupe of vaudeville performers on hand in addition to the boxers, as said. There will be singers, dancers, and solo musicians. The Woodberryman's orchestra will furnish the music.

BASEBALL TO HONOR MACK

Players, Rooters To Join In Birthday Celebration

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5 (AP)—Baseball magnates, managers, players and just plain bleacher rooters join hands tonight to pay homage to the most beloved figure of the national pastime—Hall of Fame Connie Mack of the Athletics.

The get-together is in honor of Mack's 80th birthday. He actually was 80 last December 23, but the arrangements committee decided to postpone the testimonial dinner because of the Christmas holidays.

Celebrities from all walks of life including Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Braves will be in the crowd of 800 expected to jam the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel to do honor to the man revered wherever baseball is played. Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League, will act as toastmaster.

The entrance to the ballroom has been arranged to look like the entrance to Shibe park. Two signs read: "Pass Gate Closed" and "Twilight Game, Starting At 6:30 P. M."

F. D. R. TRIES NAVIGATION

President Personally Set Course for Part of Africa Flight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt, recalling landmarks, inlets and trails from his voyages and trips, earned the airman's tribute of "a good navigator" when he personally set the course without use of maps for part of his flying trip to Casablanca to meet Winston Churchill. "He took us in over the citadel in Haiti without trouble, just from his memory of the inlets and trails," related Captain Howard M. Case, Pan-American Airways pilot, one of the two who flew the President on his memorable trip. "Then he told us some of the background of the citadel—and said he was impressed by the view from the air."

NATIONAL LEAGUE PREPARES FILM

To Go To Central, South America

[By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—The National League's film bureau is preparing an instructive baseball picture for the office of the coordinator of inter-American affairs, to be distributed in Central and South America. The film will stress the importance of baseball in North American life and will be made up of the best instructive sequences from Eliahu Allen's last three picture-taking jobs with Spanish or Portuguese sound tracks added. It's to be called "Baseball—Techniques and Tactics." When it comes to technique, a shot of an Ebbets Field raspberry in full bloom should be highly instructive, even in South America, where they put fences around soccer fields to protect the referees and players from the fans. As for the rest, maybe the reaction will be: "Oh, yach, we heard all about that from Joe Cambria when he was down here scouting for the Senators."

Swamp 'em, wampum: Our New castle (Pa.) scout, Charlie Landolf, reports that 19-year-old Coy "Springy" Calne of Wampum, a nearby wide place in the road, recently racked up his 1,000th high school basketball point. Strictly a one-hund shoeler, Springy has scored 200 points this season. But it's no use for college scouts to come around, Charlie adds, for he soon will be tossing grenades into foxholes.

One-minute sports page: So far the Amateur Athletic Union hasn't received any bids to hold the national outdoor track and field championships and the union may have to run its own meet if some city doesn't show interest. For the first time since he has been compiling the National League "Green Book," national League Bill Brandt can't report any player who hit a homer in every park in the circuit last season. Johnny Alize and Vince DiMaggio came closest, each missing one. Harry Markson's report after consulting the experts about tonight's fight: "With men who know their boxing best it's Beau Jack, two to one."

Using his Well's: Al Well, who seems to be training more fighters for Uncle Sam than for himself, reports that another of his table, Ossie Rodriguez, goes into the army Saturday. And that his heavy-weight, Herbie Marshall, is I-A. "Meanwhile," says Al, "I'm trying to get a few good theatrical acts together. Even half my dance team, Charlie Cerny, has enlisted in the signal corps."

Service department: Ensign Leslie MacLitchell, who spends most of his time on the deck of a cruiser, never misses a chance for a track workout when he's ashore. At 22, Les figures he's young enough to come back when the war ends. Frank Bingham, former St. Joseph's College (Philadelphia) athlete, sends this word home from North Africa: "They have a game here they call football, but it is really soccer. Some of our boys staged a real football game and the people went wild over it."

With a lead of 21-9 at the end of the first half, Dugan's Oilers had one of the easiest games as they sent the North Ends down to a 45-32 defeat in an Industrial League game at the Mary street gym Thursday night and surprised the fans with the simple way in which it was done.

In the other Industrial League games at the gym, O'Neill's won out over the Coast Guard 38-33 and Torpedo School defeated Connie's Bombers 39-33.

Allen starred for the Dugan outfit with 15 points, and two teammates, Robin with 12 points and Jimmy Dunn with eight added to the stellar performance of the Oilers. Dunn is the son of Eddie Dunn, one of the greats of basketball when the old Naval Reserves were riding rough shod over almost anything that came their way. Dunn and Allen were inducted into the army Thursday, and will leave for duty next week.

ST. JOSEPH'S EIGHTH EDGES JOHN CLARKE B

Mumford Trims St. Mary's 32-24; Potter Sixth Graders Win

St. Joseph's eighth grade eagles, by holding John Clarke "B" scoreless in the last period, and tossing eight points for themselves overcame a good-sized deficit and came out on the long end of a 23-21 score in a grade school league game at the Community Center Thursday afternoon. The score at the end of the third quarter was 21-15 in favor of John Clarke.

Oncher was the spearhead of the attack, scoring 12 points.

The February meeting of the Middletown Red Cross was held Thursday afternoon in the Red Cross room at Berkeley School, Mrs. J. Vaughan Merriell, 3d, the president, in the chair. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were presented by Mrs. Louis J. Barry. Miss Ruth Davenport, chairman of surgical dressings, reported a total of 5,000 dressings completed during January. She announced that classes for making dressings meet regularly each week at the Town Hall Wednesdays from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., when the workers bring their lunch, Thursdays from 10 A. M. to 12:30 and Friday evenings from 8 to 10.

Mrs. George Wheeler, chairman of knitting, reported a total of 65 articles finished since December 1. These include 2 navy watch caps, 2 women's cardigans, 6 children's sweaters, 4 men's Brooks type sweaters, 5 pairs of navy gloves, 6 indoor heels, 11 shoulderettes, 7 knee bands, 4 navy sleeveless sweaters, 2 army helmets, 1 turtle-neck sweater, 1 pair navy socks, 2 navy helmets, 2 pairs sea boot socks.

Mrs. William Allan, chairman of production, reported 153 articles made including 63 pairs of children's rompers, 36 hot water bag covers, 3 pairs pajamas, and 1 robe.

Miss Mary B. Sloane, school nurse, reported the schools free from contagious diseases. She said the Well-Baby meeting for February was omitted because of traveling conditions.

The chairman announced that the Middletown quota for the war fund drive in March will be $5,000. Refreshments were served by Miss Sloane.

The regular meeting of the Southport Home Demonstration Extension Club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mabel Rapozza, chairman, on Wapping road. Mrs. Rapozza presided over the business meeting, attended by nine members and one guest, Mrs. Louis Paenon. Miss Nettie H. Simmons, Home Demonstration Agent, was in charge of the cutting and fitting of slips. She announced that a vacuum cleaner meeting and demonstration will be held February 26 for the combined clubs, the place to be announced.

Plans were made for a joint meeting with the Portsmouth Extension Club March 4 at the home of Mrs. Manuel Cardozo on Indian avenue, when the subject will be "Slip Cover Patterns."

The Parent Teacher Fellowship of St. Mary's-Holy Cross parish met Thursday at the parsonage. The afternoon was spent in sewing.

PERMANENT INJUNCTION

IN RENTAL CASE

Replaces Temporary Action Filed Earlier; La Gasse Waive Hearing

Judge John P. Hartigan entered in federal court in Providence, Thursday, a permanent injunction restraining Anita J. LaGasse and Delphis A. LaGasse, of 135 Church street, this city, from violating maximum rent regulations. It replaces a temporary injunction entered December 23.

The LaGasses consented to the injunction and waived hearing. Judge Hartigan two weeks ago dismissed a contempt petition brought against Mrs. LaGasse charging that she demanded $50 a month rent for an apartment whose legal maximum rent was $10 a month.

LIONS CLUB HEARS TALK

ON "CHEMICAL WARFARE"

Lieutenant Rusch Tells Of Various Types Used; Members Sniff Gasses

Lieutenant Harry A. Rusch, (MC), U. S. N., spoke on "Chemical Warfare" at a meeting of the Lions Club at the Hotel Viking Thursday evening. William A. Peckham, a former president of the club, introduced the speaker and conducted the business period in the absence of J. Fred Sherman, president, who is confined to his home by illness.

Lieutenant Rusch told of various types of poison gas used in warfare and explained that today almost complete protection against such gas is possible. He said gas is now a defensive rather than an offensive weapon. He considers mustard gas, discovered by accident in the World War, the most effective. He said it can be combated successfully with chloride of lime. He spoke of Lewisite said to be the most deadly gas, and told of gasses that damage lung and body tissues. He let members sniff various gasses to familiarize themselves with their odors.

Raymond Smith was a guest at the meeting.

BOFF—MOWBRAY

Miss Doris A. Mowbray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mowbray of Johnson street, Fall River, became the wife of Primo First Class Horace Boff, U. S. CONTINUED PRODUCTION

AT STATION ASSURED

Torpedo Plant Delegation Confers With Members of Congress Ordnance Bureau

The navy's bureau of ordnance has given assurance to a delegation of six workers from the Naval Torpedo Station that production at the station would not be reduced, according to advices from Washington. In some respects, the navy said, there would be an increase in production.

It was said the workers went to Washington because it was reported that some work was to be transferred from the station. They had conferences with Senator Peter Goulet Gerry, Congressman Alvin J. Forand and John E. Fogarty, and Edward J. Higgins, secretary to Senator Theodore Francis Green.

Senator Gerry got in touch with the navy's chief of ordnance, who sent a representative to another meeting at Gerry's office. The details of the meeting were not revealed but it was said afterwards the workers were told they need have no fear of a reduction here.

Miss Virginia Weiser and Miss Ann Eric represented the senior club. Fifteen members attended.

QUIT CONDEMNED HOMES

A few hours before the deadline set by a federal court for vacating property condemned by the navy last July, three residents of Training Station road and Third street moved from their homes. They were Obvious E. Davis and Raymond W. Shirley, 1 and 3 Training Station road, and Marie Tupp, 29 Third street. They were held in contempt of court on January 28 for failing to vacate and were given to February 4 to purge themselves.

"JIMMY" RING ENDS

NAVAL BASIC TRAINING

Former Rogers High Athlete Awaits Assignment To New Duties

James F. Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ring of 8 Middleton avenue, who is enlisted in the Naval Reserve as a yeoman, third class, recently completed his basic training at the Naval Training Station. He soon will be assigned to other duties.

Ring, who was graduated in 1931 from Rogers High School, where he was on the basketball, football, and softball teams, had been employed as a junior stenographer at the Naval Training Station for a year and a half prior to enlistment. He also is a member of the Newport Y. M. C. A.

An uncle, Robert Ring, is a chief machinist's mate.

Admiral Yarnell Illustrates His Talk With Maps; Three WAVES Attend Meeting

Admiral Harry F. Yarnell spoke on "War in the Pacific" at the monthly meeting of the Newport College Club at the Swinburne House on Pelham street Thursday afternoon. He illustrated his talk with maps.

Three members of the Waves were present as guests. Miss Ruth B. Franklin conducted the business meeting. Miss Marlow Horton was chairman of the hostess committee. Miss Edith Sestrom and Miss Margaret E. Carr poured tea. The other members of the committee were Mrs. Jose Ramos and the Misses Mary Phelan, Mary Murphy, Frances Riley, Helen Newcomb and Thelma Rosen.

WHIPPING VERDICT RE-SERVED

Judge William T. O'Donnell in a Fifth District court session at the Warren town hall late Thursday, reserved his verdict at the close of the absolute charge trial of Lewis E. Holden, of Peck High School, Barrington. It is charged the teacher assaulted Carlo E. Lumbo, Jr., 13, a student at the school. It is alleged that he struck the boy several times with a strap and medical treatment was required. Holden said he punished the boy for what he declared to be "absolute defiance."

RAILS TO RETIRE DEBTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The railroad industry is expected to use revenues from increased rates and fares for betterment to their plants and retirement of debt.

R. V. Fletcher, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, said the carriers were in accord with the general purpose. He opened the railroad's testimony in support of continuing of rate increases authorized in 1912. The increases are under fire by price stabilization agencies of the government, who contend they are inflationary.

100 SHIPS DELIVERED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Merchant shipyards in the United States delivered 106 vessels aggregating 1,008,400 deadweight tons in January, the second month in a row in which production passed the million-ton mark.

The Maritime Commission, announcing this, said January production fell behind the December record of 121 ships because of shortages of steel and delays in completion of propulsion equipment, as well as severe weather conditions which particularly affected northern yards.

Seventy-nine of the vessels completed in January were Liberty ships, four C-type freighters, five large tankers, 14 of special types and four tugs.

SOLDIERS' DIMOUT DANCE

BELFAST, Feb. 5 (AP)—Could be that a new fad for dances was devised by accident here recently. While a United States army band was playing at a charity dance the electric lights failed. The musicians obtained a kerosene lamp and placed it in the center of the platform. Candles were placed around the dance floor. They borrowed flashlights to read the music. At the end of each number the flashlights were extinguished to conserve the batteries. Everyone had such a good time that they extended the dance an extra hour.

RED RANGE BULL DANGEROUS

BOZEMAN, Mont., Feb. 5 (AP)—Take it from Ed Miller, rancher, of the Elk Horn, who's faced 'em all, an old red range bull is the most dangerous thing on legs, not barring grizzlies, but moose or any other sort of critter with a curled disposition. Miller, who has been run over by a moving machine, shot eight times and twice dragged from a saddle stirrup, says an old red range bull of the West "will put you over the fence 10 times while a grizzly bear is thinking it over."

As the next most dangerous animals he lists the bull moose second and the grizzly third.

Earl Ovington made the first air mail flight in U. S. history September 23, 1911.

WIDE BOSTON PROBE SEEN

Many Matters Confronted Specially Called Grand Jury

BOSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A wide-spread investigation into Boston's night life, gambling operations and other matters today confronted a specially-summoned Suffolk County grand jury that began hearing evidence Thursday. Attorney General Robert T. Hushell outlined the scope of the investigation in an interview last night.

A reporter asked him: "Can you say what the grand jury was called for—Sagansky (Dr. Harry Sagansky, recently indicted on lottery charges in connection with an alleged multi-million dollar number pool ring, the Oceanfront Grove night club where fire caused 189 deaths), or some new case?"

"Obviously, these things converge," Hushell said. "It is the whole situation. The grand jury sits for six months."

YOUR INCOME TAX

Deductions For Taxes

Taxes are, in general, a deductible item in arriving at net income for federal income tax purposes.

The deductibility of taxes is subject to four general limitations: Taxes are generally deductible only by the person upon whom they are, by law imposed.

Federal income, war profits, and excess profits taxes are not deductible for federal income tax purposes.

Taxes for local benefits, such as assessments for street, sidewalk, sewage, and other local improvements which tend to enhance the value of the property taxed, are not deductible except amounts allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

The tax must be a tax for public purposes. In the case of state local "sales taxes," if the amount of the tax is measured by the price of the article sold, or by a sum per unit of the article sold, and is separately stated, the amount paid is deductible by the purchaser.

The federal tax on gasoline is levied upon the producer or importer and consequently is not deductible by the individual consumer (except that in the case of gasoline used for business purposes it may be included in the cost of the gasoline as a business expense).

Federal duties and excise taxes are, in general, imposed upon the manufacturer, importer, or dealer, and consequently are not deductible by the consumer or vendee.

Taxes imposed by the United States government on the following items may be deducted: Admissions, club dues, telephone and telegraph services, safe deposit boxes, transportation of persons and property use of motor vehicle or boat, and documents.

Federal employment taxes required to be paid by an employer are deductible, but the amount of such taxes required to be withheld by the employer from the compensation of employees as payments are made is not allowable as a deduction by the employee.

State income taxes are allowable tax deductions in the federal income tax return.

MAYOR DEFENDS CITY ROLLER-RENTAL

Declares Harry Hamilton
Acted in Good Faith

Aldermen Give New Commissioner Power to Sign Release
For Machine

Harry R. Hamilton rented the city's gasoline roller to the Leonard-Munroe company in good faith, Mayor Herbert E. Macauley said at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen Thursday afternoon when he came to the defense of the former public works commissioner during a discussion on the return of the equipment to the city.

"I'm tired of getting baited around and it's time I came to the defense of those who worked with me for two years and were absolutely on the level," the mayor said. "I'm going to ask the contractors for a breakdown and what money they had to spend to get the machine so it would work, and it will amaze those who figure it was such an injustice."

"The machine was let out in good faith," the mayor continued. "Every check came to the city treasurer and was cashed. The compensation was more than just for the condition of the equipment, I'm going to defend Hamilton and the city yard. I'm going to get the inventory of the city yard first. Hamilton worked with me for two years and I owe him justification."

The aldermen voted to give Gardner C. Easton, the new public works commissioner, power to sign the release for the roller if in his judgment it is in satisfactory condition. He said it was mounted on a low gear at the Leonard-Munroe plant. Judge John C. Burke, city solicitor, said he saw no reason why the commissioner could not sign the release and return the roller to the city.

The matter came out at a recent meeting of the budget commission from the Representative Council, the mayor and the aldermen, when it was said that no equipment should be rented out by the city and no city officials had authority to make such leases. The mayor and the aldermen were directed to have the roller returned to the city in good condition. The construction firm, engaged on a naval project, wanted to keep the roller for several months for road work that soon will be started, but the board refused to grant this and asked immediate return of the machine.

The report of the commissioner for the four weeks ending January 27 was read Thursday, but no action taken. It showed labor expenditures of $13,001.93, materials, $1,675.10, total $14,677.03. Under the bond issue, the expenses were labor, $130.25, materials, $47.67, total $183.92.

NEWPORTER NAMED CADET LIEUTENANT

Paul T. Heffernan To Act As Adjutant Of Naval Regiment at Corpus Christi

Paul Thomas Heffernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Heffernan, of Bliss road, has been appointed cadet lieutenant to act as adjutant of the Eighth Battalion Cadet Regiment at Corpus Christi, Texas, according to word his parents have received from Lieutenant Colonel L. Norman, U. S. M. C.

The Newporter won the distinction through his "meritorious performance of regular duties and in recognition of his officer-like qualities both in actions and habits," the letter from Colonel Norman said. The officer congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Heffernan on their son's accomplishments.

The Newport youth attended the Naval Academy for two years and has been at Corpus Christi in training for a commission as a naval flyer for the last nine months.

TWO GROUPS FAVOR RAW MILK PRICE RISE

Submit Increase for Producers to Control Body

State Board Takes Matter Under Advisement; Creamery Men
Favor Boost

Proposals for the increase in price of raw milk, for producers were taken under advisement by the state Milk Control board at a hearing in Middletown town hall Thursday afternoon. A proposal by the New England Milk Producers Association asked an increase from $4 to $4.55 per 100 pounds, while the Newport Dairyman's Cooperative Association requested an increase to $4.35.

Members of the state board gave no definite indication that the suggested increase would be granted although similar increases were allowed for the Providence district recently. Producers were hopeful of the rule, particularly as an order of the Federal Marketing Administration in Washington may send the price per 100 pounds to $1.31 in the Fall River area.

Harold C. Harlow, proprietor of the Aquidneck Island Creamery, and Samuel Rector, president and treasurer of the Newport Creamery, spoke in favor of the upward adjustment, indicating that present operating costs did not provide producers with a working profit. Elmer Havens of the local Dairyman's Association, said the OPA had failed to set a ceiling on feeds or cattle and that war activities had caused a labor shortage and forced higher wages to farm help.

Dealers suggested that increases in their costs through new prices to the producers should be reflected in charges to the consumers on a proportional basis. Both producers and distributors criticized the OPA and AMA rulings. One producer argued that the control board could not establish retail milk prices but was permitted to rule on prices to producers.

Members of the board present were William C. Violi, Mr. Hazard, Mr. Hull and the secretary, Miss Hunt. Dr. Raymond G. Bressler, chairman, was unable to attend.

LEGION HEAD ON PEACE

BURLINGTON, VT., Feb. 5 (AP)—Roane Waring, national commander of the American Legion, asserts that peace should be declared "only after our victorious armies have marched across and devastated the lands of our enemies."

"The complete annihilation of the governments of Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini" is another prerequisite of peace, he said Thursday night in addressing a banquet of Vermont Legionnaires.

Social Tonight

The Service Wives met at the USO club Thursday evening, with Mrs. Homer C. Hagman, the president, in charge. The group voted to meet at weekly intervals to sew for various purposes. Arrangements were made for the group to sponsor a dance at the USO next Tuesday evening. In the club's social rooms, an informal game session was featured. Movies were shown in the auditorium. Miss Mary Leddy and Mrs. Robert Cottrell were receptionists.

This evening, a dance at the club will be directed by the USO Girls, Miss Helen Groff, chairman. The 24th Coast Artillery orchestra will play. Sunday evening, the Fleet Reserve Auxiliary, with Mrs. Della Davis as chairman of arrangements, will sponsor a social.

WOMEN'S FIELD ARMY ORGANIZE FOR DRIVE

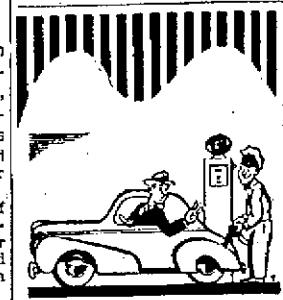

Newport County Officers
Among Those Attending
Meeting in Providence

Representatives of the Women's Field Army for the control of cancer came from 23 cities and towns to hear addresses by Mrs. Marjorie B. Hing, national commander, Mrs. James C. Carnack, Rhode Island and regional commander, and Dr. Herman C. Pitts, president of the American Society for the control of cancer, at a meeting held in Providence Thursday to organize for the April enrollment campaign.

Dr. Pitts emphasized the need of a definite cancer educational program in the schools of Rhode Island as an aid in combating the increase of the disease in the state for the future. The report of Mrs. Carnack on the 1942 campaign showed receipts amounting to over $11,000 collected by the Rhode Island Field Army to provide hospital care for 252 needy citizens in 31 cities and towns in the state.

Newport County officers present included Mrs. Dan W. Jones, commander of Newport County; Mrs. William A. Lawrence, captain of the Portsmouth unit, and Mrs. Fred Rodington, captain of the Little Compton unit.

TOWN SCHOOL BODY CUTS ANNUAL BUDGET

Portsmouth Committee Reduces 1942 Figure

Votes Salary Increases to Teachers; Direct Continuance of Pupil Transportation

A cut of $10,010 from the budget of 1942 was noted in the $53,340 figure of the Portsmouth School Committee for the current year, which was adopted by the committee at a meeting in the town hall Thursday evening. The reduction was made possible by various reimbursements for school transportation and by tuition reductions affected as high school pupils left school to enter defense industries.

A salary increase of $100 per year was voted all regular teachers, bringing their pay scale maximum to $1,600. Special teachers for the domestic art, home economics, music and the department clerk were given $50 increases.

The committee by a unanimous vote, after studying forms for a transportation survey, directed Leonard L. Maine, superintendent, to continue transportation of children as in the past. Members decided that the safety factor of the federal regulations could be invoked for the town as the traffic hazards of the main roads were extreme.

Approximately 400 children are provided with transportation by the school system. Of this number approximately 100 reside less than two miles from their school buildings. High school students utilize regular bus lines, except those to Bristol High from the East Main road section, who are carried on a special bus.

Superintendent Maine reported that schools will be closed the week of February 22 so that buildings may be used for the rationing program in which teachers will cooperate as volunteer clerks. He said that Stella Marie Chapel at Island Park had also been secured, but that fuel would have to be supplied. He filed a petition with the Rationing Board for such fuel.

Mrs. John R. Coggeshall, clerk, and the superintendent were directed to meet with the town budget committee to present requests for appropriations.

SCOTS LIKE U. S. "BOYS"

EDINBURGH, Feb. 5 (AP)—The "boys" as American servicemen are called here, are making a big hit in this Scottish capital.

Scottish mothers, many of whom have sons serving overseas with the British army, have volunteered by the hundreds to cook meals, make beds and help entertain at the American Red Cross Services Club.

A popular spot at the club is the "Scots Room," where badges, dirks, broadswords, kilts and sporrans are displayed. These Scotswomen are charmed by the manners and bearing of the American soldiers and one spokesman for the volunteers said: "We have found them at all times courteous and thoughtful."
